Retention Control

We know that many people are concerned about possible transmission of disease in dental offices.
Practice retention of patients is recommended by American Dental Association and OSHA. Our handpieces, (dent) and instruments are sterilized (high pressure steam sterilization). These are then which haven't been sterilized are safely placed in a sealed vinyl bag and then destroyed. We use gloves, masks, and protective eyewear for our patients as well as our patients.

We welcome questions about our facilities.
